5. See Douglas Melini: You Have to Peer Into the Sky to See the Stars

Tightly structured wonder.

Not to jinx it, but this gallery can almost do no wrong of late. On the same day that the spectacular Aneta Grzeszykowska show of sexual-smart photographs closed, Douglas Melini unveiled his crazy geometric paintings that never let up. One cutout shape has another beneath it, all sandwiched into shaped frames that set the eye ablaze. —Jerry Saltz
